BOOTS FOR THE ROOTS

In many global communities you see children playing football in their bare feet on rubble-stew ground. In 2009 we founded our global charity campaign Boots for Africa to collect old football boots and deliver them to the children and football communities in Africa. From 2009 to 2012 more than 25.000 pairs of boots were shipped to different places in Africa. Now, after three years of successful support in Africa, we want to expand the campaign worldwide. Boots for the Roots is our next level after our Boots for Africa campaign, now aiming to distribute football boots to different countries all around the world. Help us to develop the skills and joy of disadvantaged children, and provide more with the opportunity to enjoy the beautiful game by sending your old football boots to our Foundation!

Our dedication: Strengthen the roots of football and share the games' joy around the world.
